Franchise and Eligibility

- (1) Franchise for the Folketing is held by every person of Danish nationality, who is above 18 years of age, and permanently resident in the realm, unless such person has been deprived of his or her legal capacity under a guardianship order, cf. section 6 of the Guardianship Act.
- (1) Persons who are employed by the Danish State and ordered to enter service outside the realm, shall be considered to be permanently resident in the realm.

(2) The following persons who have taken up temporary residence in foreign countries shall also be considered to be permanently resident in the realm-

(i) persons being sent out in foreign service as employees of a Danish public agency or any local private undertaking or association;

(ii) persons taking up residence in foreign countries as employees of an international organisation of which Denmark is a member;

(iii) persons being sent out to do service in foreign countries by a Danish relief organisation;

(iv) persons staying abroad for the purpose of education;

(v) persons staying abroad for health reasons;

(vi) persons staying abroad and who, with respect to affiliation with the realm, must be quite co-equal with the persons specified in paragraphs (i) to (v).<sup>5</sup>

(3) Persons taking up residence in foreign countries shall also be considered to be permanently resident in the realm if they intend to return to the realm within two years of their departure.

(4) Any person co-habiting at the same address with a person comprised by subsections (1), (2) or (3) shall be considered to be permanently resident in the realm if the co-habiting partners concerned-

(i) have married or entered into a registered partnership with each other, or

(ii) fulfil the conditions of marrying or entering into a registered partnership with each other and had set up joint residence before departure.

3. (1) No one shall exercise the right to vote except if included in the electoral register.

4. (1) Any person who is entitled to vote at Folketing elections under section 1, cf. section 2, shall be eligible for membership of the Folketing, unless he or she has been convicted of an act which in the eyes of the public makes him or her unworthy of being a Member of the Folketing, cf. sections 30 and 33 of the Act of the Constitution.

5. (1) No one can stand as candidate in an election unless he himself or she herself has announced his or her candidature in the election.

6. (1) Members of the Folketing are elected for four years. The existing seats in the Folketing shall, however, be vacated upon a new election, cf. section 32 of the Act of the Constitution.

(2) General elections are called by royal public notice, to be held on the same day throughout the realm. The High Commissioners in the Faroe Islands and in Greenland can be entrusted to fix another day for holding the election.

Part 2

Electoral Districts and Polling Districts. Local Distribution of Seats

7. (1) A total of 179 members, two of which in the Faroe Islands and two of which in Greenland, are to be elected for the Folketing.

(2) Rules for elections in the Faroe Islands and in Greenland are laid down in separate acts.

8. (1) Denmark falls into three provinces: Metropolitan Copenhagen, Sealand-Southern Denmark and Northern and Central Jutland, of the Schedule to the Act (List of Electoral Districts)

(2) The regions are subdivided into multimember constituencies, of the List of Electoral Districts. Metropolitan Copenhagen encompasses four multimember constituencies. Sealand-Southern Denmark and Northern and Central Jutland are each made up of three multimember constituencies.

(3) The multimember constituencies are split into nomination districts, of the List of Electoral Districts.

(4) A nomination district consists of one or more municipalities or a part of a municipality. For nomination districts consisting of more than one municipality or a part of a municipality, the common functions are carried out by the municipality identified as a constituency municipality in the List of Electoral Districts.

(5) The Minister for Social Welfare can issue an executive order for minor adjustments to the List of Electoral Districts.

(6) The Minister for Social Welfare can issue an executive order for changes to the List of Electoral Districts in maintaining the necessary subdivision of electoral districts independent of any changes in subdivisions of municipalities or parishes.

9. (1) Each municipality or part of a municipality in a nomination district is subdivided into polling districts. A municipality or part of a municipality, however, can constitute one polling district. The local council makes decisions regarding the setting up, alteration or closing down of polling districts.

10. (1) Of the nationwide 175 seats, 135 are constituency seats and 40 are compensatory seats. The distribution of seats among regions and among multimember constituencies are determined and announced by the Minister for Social Welfare following publication of the population figure as at January 1st 2010, 2015, 2020, etc., and the distribution subsequently applies to the following elections.

(2) The distribution is fixed proportional to numbers, which for each region and each multi-member constituency are computed as the sum of: 1) the population; 2) the number of voters in the last general election; and 3) the area in square kilometres multiplied by 20, of the appropriate region or multimember constituency, respectively. If the number of seats resulting from the distribution are not integers and, therefore, do not add up to the necessary number of seats when fractions are eliminated, the largest fractions shall be increased until the number has been reached (the method of the largest remainders). If two or more fractions are of equal size, lots shall be drawn.

(3) According to the computation rule in subsection (2), the 175 seats are first distributed among the three regions. Next, the 135 constituency seats are distributed accordingly among the regions. Finally, the constituency seats are distributed among the multimember constituencies within the appropriate regions.

(4) If, by computation according to subsection (3), the Multimember Constituency of Bornholm fails to obtain at least two seats, a second distribution of seats shall be undertaken in which the Multimember Constituency of Bornholm is allocated two seats in advance. The remaining 133 constituency seats shall be finally distributed among the other multimember constituencies as specified in subsection (3).

(5) The number of compensatory seats for allocation to each region shall be computed as the difference between the overall number of seats in the region and the number of constituency seats in the region.

Part 3

Parties Entitled to Participate in General Elections

11. (1) The parties which gained representation in the Folketing in the last general election and which continue to be represented therein, shall be entitled to participate in general elections.

(2) The right of participation in a general election furthermore extends to new parties which have been registered with the Minister for Social Welfare according to the rules of section 12.

(3) Parties which are entitled to participate in general elections shall hereinafter be referred to as parties entitled to nomination.

12. (1) New parties wishing to participate in a general election must apply for registration with the Minister for Social Welfare not later than noon 15 days prior to election day. This application must be accompanied by declarations from voters whose number corresponds to 1/175 of all valid votes cast in the last general election as a minimum. No voters' declarations are required in the case of the party of the German minority.

(2) The voters' declarations are to be stated on a form which has been approved by the Election Board in advance, cf. section 17. The approval remains valid for three years counting from the day of the approval. In connection with approval of the form the Election Board will decide whether the name of the new party can be approved, cf. section 13. Approval of the party name remains valid for the same term as approval of the form. An application for approval of a form regarding a new party whose name is non-approvable, cf. section 13, cannot be filed until 30 days before expiry of the period during which the name cannot be approved.

(3) The Election Board may extend approval of the form and party name by one year upon request, to be calculated from expiry of the previous approval if there is reason to believe that registration of the party will take place within the time of the extension. In special cases extension may be granted more than once. Any request for extension, apart from exceptional circumstances, must be received by the day the previous approval expires. If a request for extension of approval is received by the ultimate date of the previous approval, the approval shall be upheld until the validity of the request has been decided.

(4) If the party has not been registered within the stipulated time of approval for the party's voters' declaration form, including any extension allowed, cf subsections (2) and (3), the person in respect of which the voters' declaration form has been approved cannot apply for approval of a form carrying the same party name until one year after the previous approval has expired. However, this rule shall not apply if other persons are prevented from obtaining approval of the party name under section 13 subsections (1)(ii) and (v) and subsection (2).

(5) The voters' declarations must, in order to be included, be duly completed, with distinct indication of the name of the voter, CRSnumber, permanent address, and be signed and dated by the voter in his or her own handwriting. The declarations must furthermore be furnished with a certificate from the local national registration office attesting to the fulfilment by the voter of the conditions of franchise for the Folketing at the time of issuing the declaration. No attestation shall take place where the voter is deceased after the declaration was issued.

(6) After attestation, the national registration office shall send the voter's declaration to the appropriate voter. The voter shall then himself or herself forward the declaration to the party if the voter has a continued interest in participating in the registration of the appropriate party. In forwarding the voter's declaration, the national registration office shall inform the voter accordingly. The national registration office shall return voters' declarations which do not fulfil the conditions for attestation to the party, with indication of the reason for not granting its attestation.

(7) A voter's declaration shall not be included, however, if it-

(i) was made 18 months or more before registration of the party, cf. subsection (1); or,

(ii) was made by a voter who has already issued a declaration in favour of a party registered according to subsection (1).

general elections and referendums subsequently held, however, for one year from the day of registration as a minimum.

(9) The Minister for Social Welfare shall keep the voters' declarations as long as the application for registration remains valid and shall subsequently destroy them.

13. (1) No approval can be granted to a new party name which-

(i) is in use by a party entitled to nomination, cf. section (11);

(ii) is the name of a party that has previously been entitled to nomination, cf. section (11), or,

(vii) may cause confusion of identity with one of the parties referred to in paragraphs (i) to (vi).

(2) The name of a new party cannot be approved if by a final court decision it has been established or there are other reasons to assume that somebody else on a basis different than the rules in subsection (1) holds an exclusive right to the name. The name may, however, be approved if the holder of the exclusive right has consented to the party's use of the name.

(3) If by final judgment it is established or there are other reasons to assume that somebody else on a grounds other than the rules in subsection (1) holds exclusive right to a name which

If the candidate does not want his or her full name to appear on the ballot paper, it must be indicated how the name is desired to appear. A candidate's last name or middle name and at least one first name or initial must always appear. Only middle and last names which a candidate is entitled to use under the N Names Act, or middle names recorded in the national register, are allowed to appear on the ballot paper. (3) Candidates wishing to stand for a party must indicate this in the form.

(4) Candidates standing as independents shall state this in the form.

Furthermore, the form shall be signed by the supporters of the candidate and each supporter shall be specified by his or her name,

CRSCRS number

35. (1) As soon as possible and not later than immediately after the closing date for handing in announcements of candidature shall the registration authority examine the validity of the duly received forms.

20 general elections and referendums

If the registration authority finds that a form should be declared invalid on account of material deficiencies, the registration authority shall inform the candidate or contact person stated in the form accordingly without delay. Not later than 12 hours subsequent to due notification may a new registration form be submitted in respect of the candidate or the deficiencies be remedied. The registration authority shall then decide on the validity of the announcement form. The decision shall be communicated to the candidate in writing.

36. (1) (Repealed)

37. (1) Not later than noon ten days prior to election day shall the parties entitled to nomination for each multimember constituency give notice in writing about candidates approved by the party in the individual nomination districts. No candidate shall stand for the party in the multimember constituency in question unless notification of approval has been given.

their votes, cf. section 81.

(3) Prior to each election the Minister for Social Welfare notifies the registration authority of the lists of nominees to be prepared, their design and the information they are required to contain. ### Ballot Papers

43. (1) The election committee shall procure ballot papers for use in the poll in the nomination district and notices, cf. section 45(3). The ballot paper and notices shall be developed based on the lists of nominees specified in section 42(1).

(2) The ballot paper shall contain the names and letters of all parties whose candidates stand in the multimember constituency. The parties shall be listed in alphabetical order according to their letters.

(3) The ballot paper shall furthermore contain the names of all candidates standing in the multimember constituency. Candidates standing for a party shall be listed together in a order, however,

in such a way that candidates standing in the nomination district in question shall be listed first.

(4) The Minister for Social Welfare shall lay down detailed rules for the content and design of the ballot papers.

44. (1) The election committee shall see to it that the requisite number of ballot papers and

Voting on Election Day

45. (1) In each polling district voting takes place at one polling station.

(2) The local council shall provide the premises for the voting and the requisite number of voting booths and ballot boxes. The voting booths must be designed to allow the voter to

general elections and referendums 23

cast his or her vote without being watched by others. Voting booths must be equipped with the requisite tools for voting. Ballot boxes must be designed in a manner to prevent removal of ballot papers without opening the ballot box.

Ballot boxes must be lockable or sealable.

(3) At the polling stations notices shall have been put up indicating all the names of parties and candidates in the order listed on the ballot paper. For the parties, their letters, too, shall be stated.

(4) The local council shall also ensure that the requisite preparations for the voting proce-

46. (1) Voting begins at 0900 hours and continues until 2000 hours and for as long thereafter as voters show up to cast their vote. Voting is over when no voter expresses any wish to vote regardless that an invitation to vote is announced.

(2) Before the voting begins appointed electors shall show those present that the ballot boxes are empty. Immediately thereafter the boxes must be locked or sealed.

47. (1) The right to vote is exercised by personal appearance at the polling station. Before voting a voter must turn over his or her poll card to the keeper of the electoral register. ballot paper the voter enters a cross against the name of a party or the name of a candidate.

booth or in any other way are unable to vote in the prescribed way, cf. section 48, may request the assistance needed to cast their vote, cf. however subsection (4). This may call for the necessary modifications of the prescribed procedure and may entail access to cast one's vote immediately outside the polling station.

(2) Assistance in voting is rendered by two polling supervisors or appointed electors. Instead of one of the supervisors or appointed electors the voter can demand assistance in voting by a person of his/her own choice.

(3) A candidate standing for a party in the multimember constituency may not render assistance in voting as polling supervisor or appointed elector.

(4) Assistance to cross off the ballot paper may be rendered only when the voter is able to indicate direct and unambiguously to those rendering assistance the party or candidate for which he wants to vote.

50. (1) The polling supervisors may decide that in addition to the persons in charge of the voting procedure only voters who are about to vote may be allowed inside the polling station. The polling supervisors may also limit the number of persons present in the interest of public order. Polling supervisors shall ensure that voters are not subjected to electioneering in the voting premises or elsewhere in the immediate vicinity. Persons present shall in all respects comply with the instructions of the polling supervisors.

51. (1) Persons in charge of the voting procedure may not during the voting advise a voter or suggest a party or candidate to vote for. They shall not to unauthorised persons state whether a voter has been present to cast his or her vote or provide any other information about the voting of a voter.

(2) No unauthorised person shall be allowed to check systematically that voters show up and cast their vote.

52. (1) Once the voting is over, and before vote-counting begins, ballot papers not handed out and ballot papers returned in substitution are counted and bound in separate packages.

receiver. The advance voting material will hence be issued, cf. section 60.

(2) The voter indicates on the ballot paper the name or letter of a party which has candidates at the polling stations within the appropriate polling districts before voting starts, cf. however subsection (5).

(5) If less than five advance votes have been received within a polling district, the local council shall transfer the advance votes to a polling district which has received a minimum of five advance votes and hand them over to the polling supervisors of that polling district, who shall examine whether the advance votes qualify for consideration, cf. section 65. If a transferred advance vote is to be considered, the polling supervisors shall enter the voter in question in the election register, make a note on the electoral register about the cause for inclusion in the electoral register and otherwise follow the procedure specified in section 66(1) regarding advance votes qualifying for consideration. The polling supervisors shall furthermore instruct the polling supervisors of the original polling district that the voter concerned is to be deleted from the electoral register of that polling district before commencement of the vote. The cause for which the voter is deleted from the electoral register shall be stated in the electoral register of the original polling district, while noting in which polling district the voter has been included in the electoral register instead. If a transferred advance vote is not to be considered, the polling supervisors shall follow the procedure specified in section 66(2), and no corrections shall be made to the electoral registers in the two polling districts concerned.

(6) If based on the information about the sender on the cover, it cannot be decided in which polling district the sender is included in the electoral register, the local council shall decide to which polling district the advance vote shall belong with a view to having the polling supervisors check out the advance vote for its claim to being considered, cf. section 65.

65. (1) The polling supervisors shall examine the advance votes, if necessary on the day before

(3) If, from the same voter, more than one advance vote has been received that qualifies for consideration, the most recently cast advance vote shall be considered.

66. (1) Where an advance vote qualifies for consideration a mark is put down against the name of the voter in the electoral register to indicate that the voter has cast an advance vote. The unopened envelope and the covering letter are replaced under the cover and retained until the voting is over. The covers are then removed from the envelopes and put into one of the ballot boxes. The envelopes shall not be opened until the votes are counted.

(2) Where an advance vote does not qualify for consideration, the cause must be written on the cover and the unopened envelope and the covering letter be replaced under the cover.

number of votes cast for each party and for each independent candidate shall be counted.

(2) A vote is cast for the party within the field of which the voter has put his or her cross on the ballot paper. An advance vote is cast for the party, whose name or letter the voter has stated the name of a candidate standing for a party, the vote shall be regarded as cast in favour of the party.

(3) A vote is cast for the independent candidate against whom the voter has put his or her cross on the ballot paper. An advance vote is cast for the independent candidate, whose name the voter has indicated on the ballot paper.

32 general elections and referendums

(i) it is blank;

(ii) the voter's vote has not been marked with a cross in the ballot paper, cf. the second sentence of section 48(1).

(iii) it cannot be definitely decided which of the parties or which independent candidate

(iv) the ballot paper is assumed not to have been handed out at the polling station; or,

(v) the ballot paper has been given a special mark of identification.

(2) An advance ballot paper shall be invalid if-

(i) it is blank;

(ii) it cannot be definitely decided which of the parties or which independent candidate the voter intended to favour with his or her vote;

where the voter is on the electoral register, or carries only the name of a party, which has no candidates in the multimember constituency in question;

(iv) an envelope contains something else or more than one ballot paper;

(v) the ballot paper is assumed not to have been procured by the Minister for Social Welfare; or,

(vi) the ballot paper has been given a special mark of identification.

(3) The polling supervisors shall record in the poll book how many ballot papers they considered invalid and the reasons for their judgment.

(4) Following presentation to the parliamentary election scrutiny committee, the Minister for Social Welfare may lay down detailed rules for assessment of ballot papers, including advance ballot papers.

70. (1) When the vote counting is over, the results of the count shall be recorded in the poll book, which shall be signed by the polling supervisors and the results shall be announced to those present. The chairman of the polling supervisors shall immediately notify the chairman of the election committee of the results. In municipalities comprising more than one nomination district, the chairman of the election committee can decide that notice shall be given to one of the chairmen of the polling supervisors in each nomination district.

71. (1) When the chairman of the election committee has received reports from all polling stations in the nomination district, the votes reported are summed up. Immediately after, the Minister for Social Welfare shall be given a report of how many votes in the entire general elections and referendums 33 nomination district have been cast for each party and for each independent candidate.

The result shall be entered in the election records and be announced to those present.

(2) The number of personal votes for each candidate and the number of party votes for each party in each polling district and in the nomination district as a whole are tabulated concurrently, cf. subsections (3) and (4). Subsequently, the number of party votes cast for the nomination district as a whole is tabulated, to establish the allocation of votes in respect of each individual candidate, cf. subsection (5), and the number of personal votes and added party votes in respect of each candidate are summed up.

(3) If the voter has put a cross against the name of a candidate, or against both the name of a candidate and the name of the party for which the candidate stands, the ballot paper shall be deemed as cast in favour of such candidate (personal vote). Similar rules shall apply if, on the advance ballot paper, the voter has indicated the name of a candidate or both the name of a candidate and the name or letter of the party for which the candidate stands.

(4) If the voter has put a cross against the name of a party or within the party field in such a way that there is doubt as to which of the party's candidates the voter intended to give his or her vote, the ballot paper shall be deemed to have been cast in favour of the party (party vote). If, in the nomination district, the party does not have a candidate standing, the party votes shall not be allocated to any candidate, but shall be listed separately as "other party votes". If a party list has been registered, these votes shall, however, be allocated to the candidate announced as the first candidate in the party list in the multimember constituency.

(6) The result of the tabulation and summation for the nomination district as a whole specified in the first and second sentences of subsection (2) shall be entered in the election records and be announced to those present. The result of the tabulation and summation for each polling district specified in subsection (2)(i) shall form an attachment to the election records.

74. (1) All members of the election committee shall sign the election records. The following items shall be bound in separate packages-

- (ii) the ballot papers returned in substitution;
- (iii) the used blanks and other invalid ballot papers;
- (iv) the valid ballot papers, with the personal votes for each candidate and the party votes for each party to be separately packaged; and
- (v) the advance voting material.

(2) Each package shall be marked with its contents and sealed. The packages, the election records, poll books, poll cards and electoral registers shall be kept as specified in section 104.

(3) The chairman of the election committee shall send a copy of the election records complete with attachments, together with an unused ballot paper to the Minister for Social Welfare. The copy shall be confirmed by the chairman. The copy of the election records shall be received by the Minister for Social Welfare as far as possible not later than on the day after the recount of the votes. The Minister for Social Welfare determines the forwarding procedure for the election records complete with attachments and may also lay down to which extent and in which form the election records complete with attachments must be electronically submitted to the Minister for Social Welfare.

Candidates' Participation in the Counting of Votes

74a. (1) No candidate standing for a party in a multimember constituency is allowed to partici-

general elections and referendums 35

pate in counting the number of votes cast for the party concerned. No candidate standing as an independent candidate in a multimember constituency is allowed to participate in counting the number of votes cast for each independent candidate.

No candidate standing for a party in a multimember constituency is allowed to participate in the tabulation of votes cast for the party reflecting the distribution between personal votes for each individual candidate and party votes, cf.

section 73(3) and (4).

Partartart 10

Tabulation of the Election

75. (1) When the Minister for Social Welfare has received the confirmed copies of all election records, these are used for overall tabulation of the election.

Allocation of Constituency Seats

76. (1) The votes cast for each party in all nomination districts in a multimember constituency shall be summed up. The votes cast for each individual candidate shall equally be summed up.

(2) Each number of votes appearing as a result of the summation, cf. subsection (1), shall be divided by 1 – 2 – 3 and so on until such number of divisions equivalent to the maximum number of seats expected to be allocated to the party or to the independent candidate has been performed. The party or the independent candidate having the highest resulting quotients shall be given the first seat in the multimember constituency.

The second highest quotient entails the second seat and so on and so forth, until all constituency seats in the multimember constituency have been distributed among the parties and the independent candidates.

If two or more quotients are of equal size, lots shall be drawn.

Allocation of Compensatory Seats

77. (1) Compensatory seats shall be allocated to parties which have either-

(i) obtained at least one constituency seat; or,

(ii) in two of the three regions specified in section 8(1) obtained at least a number of votes equivalent to the average number of valid votes per constituency seat in the region; or,

(iii) obtained at least two per cent of the valid votes cast in all Denmark.

(2) The number of votes cast in favour of each party in all Denmark shall be computed for each of the parties which are entitled to compensatory seats according to subsection (1). The total number of votes for these parties shall be divided by the figure 175 with deduction of the number of constituency seats which may have accrued to independent candidates.

36 general elections and referendums

Votes cast for each party shall be divided by the resulting figure. The resulting quotients indicate the number of seats to which each party is entitled in proportion to its vote. If these quotients are not integers and, therefore, do not add up to the whole number of seats when fractions are eliminated, the largest fractions shall be increased until the number has been reached (method of the largest remainders).

If two or more fractions

are of equal size, lots shall be drawn.

(3) If no parties have obtained more constituency seats than the total number of seats to which the party is entitled in proportion to its vote, cf. subsection

(2), the allocation in subsection (2) shall be final. Hence, the number of compensatory seats to be allocated to the respective parties shall be computed as the difference between the party's total number of seats and its constituency seats.

(4) If a party has obtained more constituency seats than the total number of seats to which the party is entitled in proportion to its vote, cf. subsection (2), a second computation shall be made. In this computation parties which have obtained a number of constituency seats equivalent to or larger than the total number of seats to which they are entitled in proportion to their votes shall be disregarded. For the parties which are subsequently considered, the seats shall be allocated according to similar rules as in subsection (2), and the number of compensatory seats to be allocated to the respective parties shall be computed as stated in subsection (3).

(5) Where, by the second computation, a party has obtained more seats than the number of seats to which the party is entitled in proportion to its vote, cf. subsection (2), the party shall be allocated the number of seats to which it is entitled in accordance with subsection (2). The remaining seats shall be redistributed among the other parties according to similar rules as in subsections (2) and (3).

Allocation of Compensatory Seats to Parties by Region

78. (1) For each of the parties which are allocated compensatory seats according to section 77, the number of votes cast for the party in each of the three regions shall be computed.

(2) Each of these votes shall be divided by the figures 1-3-5-7 and so on. Next, a number of the largest quotients equivalent to the number of constituency seats obtained by the party in the region according to section 76 shall be omitted. general elections and referendums 37

(3) The region and the party which subsequently has the largest quotient shall have the first compensatory seat. The region and the party which has the second largest quotient shall have the next compensatory seat and so on and so forth. Where a region or a party has obtained the number of compensatory seats it should have, cf. sections 10 and 77, the region or the party shall not be considered any further. The allocation continues for the other regions and the other parties until all compensatory seats have been distributed. If a party which has not received votes in all three regions cannot be allocated the compensatory seats to which the party is entitled by this distribution, these seats shall be allocated in advance to the party in the regions where votes have been cast in its favour.

Allocation of Compensatory Seats to Parties by Multimember Constituency

79. (1) In the region(s) where a party has obtained compensatory seats according to section 78, the party's number of votes in the respective multimember constituencies shall be divided by the figures 1-4-7-10 and so on. In each multimember constituency a number of the largest quotients equivalent to the number of constituency seats obtained by the party in the multimember constituency shall subsequently be omitted.

(2) The multimember constituency which subsequently has the largest quotient shall have the first compensatory seat. The next compensatory seat shall be allocated to the multimember constituency which has the second largest quotient and so on and so forth until the number of compensatory seats which the party has obtained in the region has been distributed.

(3) If, by distribution of compensatory seats in regions or multimember constituencies, two or more quotients are of equal size, lots shall be drawn.

Selection of Candidates

80. (1) The count of the votes in the respective nomination districts, cf. section 73(3) to (5), shall establish which party candidates have been elected.

(2) For each multimember constituency the number of votes cast for each candidate, including the party votes allocated to the candidate, shall be summed up, cf. section 73(5).

81. (1) The candidates are elected in the order of the size of their votes, as many as the party has acquired seats in the multimember constituency, cf. however section 82. In case of an equality of votes, lots shall be drawn.
38 general elections and referendums

(2) If a party does not have a sufficient number of nominated candidates in a multimember constituency to occupy the seats allocated to the party in the multimember constituency, section 92 (2) to (4) shall apply accordingly.

82. (1) If a party has registered a party list in the multimember constituency, cf. section 41(1), the candidates who are elected shall be determined as follows-

(i) The total number of votes of the party in the multimember constituency, cf. section

76(1), shall be divided by a figure which is the number of constituency and compensatory seats acquired by the party in the multimember constituency, increased by one. The resulting figure shall be increased, even if an integer, to the nearest integer. This figure is hence the distribution

(ii) I If a candidate after the summation in section 80(2) has obtained a vote in the multi member constituency equivalent to or higher than the distribution figure, the candidate is elected. If two or more candidates have obtained the distribution figure, the candidates are elected in the order of the party list;

(iii) I If this is insufficient to fill the seats acquired by the party in the multimember consti- tuency, the other candidates are elected in the order of the party list, as many as the party remains entitled to seats;

(iv) I If none of the candidates have obtained the distribution figure, the candidates are elected in the order of the party list, as many as the party has acquired seats in the multi member constituency.

Election Returns and List of Substitutes

83. (1) The Minister for Social Welfare shall prepare election returns for the candidates who have been elected, subject to approval of the elections by the Folketing.

84. (1) The Minister for Social Welfare shall prepare a list of substitutes. The list shall state the candidates who were not elected but who are entitled to join the Folketing as substitutes, cf. section 92.

(2) For a party which has not received compensatory seats, computations shall be made for the purpose of the list of substitutes, similar to those specified in section 79.

85. (1) The list of substitutes shall be prepared separately for each region and for each party in the region. Within each region the respective multimember constituencies shall be listed for each party by order of size of the quotients computed according to section 79 and section 84(2) and which have not produced any compensatory seat. The multimember constituency general elections and referendums 39 having the largest of the quotients specified shall be stated first. Next in line shall be the multimember constituency having the second largest quotient and so on and so forth.

(2) For each multimember constituency the candidates shall be included in the list of substitutes in the order of their entitlement to join the Folketing as substitutes. The candidate having received the highest number of votes without being elected shall be first on the list. Next in line is the candidate having received the second largest number of votes and so on and so forth, cf. however subsection (3).

(3) If a party list has been announced, the order of the substitutes in the list shall be determined by the order in which the candidates who have not been elected appear in the party list.

86. (1) The Minister for Social Welfare shall send to the Folketing when it assembles-

(i) copies of the election records received from the election committees of all nomination districts, cf. section 74(3);

(ii) computations of the allocations of constituency and compensatory seats, cf. sections 76 to 79;

(iii) tabulations that establish which candidates have been elected, cf. sections 76 and 80 to 82;

(iv) the list of substitutes, cf. sections 84 and 85.

Part 11

Parliamentary Approval of the Election

87. (1) The Folketing shall decide the validity of the election of the candidates.

(2) The Folketing shall decide whether the computations and tabulations which the Minister for Social Welfare has undertaken, can be approved or whether the Minister for Social Welfare shall arrange for new computations or tabulations. The Folketing may furthermore order the Minister for Social Welfare to submit voting material, etc. to the Folketing.

in question shall be deferred. The candidates in the multimember constituency shall, however, be regarded as legally elected until further notice.

In that case approval of all compensatory seats shall be only temporarily valid.

90. (1) The Folketing shall decide to which extent and in which way a second ballot shall take place. In a second ballot only the persons with a right to vote and who were on the electoral register on the ordinary election day may cast their vote.

(2) The Minister for Social Welfare shall fix and announce the day for the holding of a second ballot.

(3) When a second ballot has taken place, new computations and tabulations are conducted as necessary.

92. (1) A substitute shall enter the Folketing as a Member when a Member of the Folketing ceases to be a Member, and in all other respects according to the rules thereon laid down in the standing orders of the Folketing.

(2) If a party does not have substitutes to fill a vacant seat in a multimember constituency, the seat shall be transferred to the multimember constituency in the region nearest entitled to the seat, cf. section 85(1).

(3) If there is no substitute for the party in the region, the seat shall be transferred to the multimember constituency in the other two regions taken together where the party has the largest quotient which did not give a compensatory seat according to computations in sections 79 and 84(2). The seat shall be transferred to the region in which this multimember constituency is situated.

general elections and referendums 41

(4) If there is no substitute under the rules of subsections (1) to (3), the Folketing shall decide whether to call a by-election.

93. (1) If a by-election has been held, the election of the new Member shall be valid for the remainder of the period of validity of elections held on the ordinary election day.

(6) A spouse's pension is granted when the spouse advances such request. If the request is

114. (1) When calculating the pensions etc. referred to in sections 110 to 113 periods of mem-bership of the European Parliament shall be co-equal with periods of membership of the F F

, provided always that periods in which the appropriate Member at one and the same time was a Member of the Folketing and the European Parliament shall count as one. The pension is calculated the European Parliament to a former Member thereof. If a retired Member of the Folketing receives a salary from a position with pension entitlement as stated in the first sentence, the total salary and pension shall not exceed the highest public servant salary with pension entitlement, and the pension from the Folketing shall in such event be reduced as specified in the first sentence, inasmuch, however, as the salary shall replace the pension in the computation.

(4) If a surviving spouse of a Member of the Folketing has a claim to a spouse's pension deriving from the appointment of the deceased to a civil servant position or a state-subsidised pension fund, the joint spouse's pension, hence to be received by the surviving spouse, shall not exceed the highest pension which a spouse can obtain under the Public Service Pensions Act, and the spouse's pension from the Folketing shall in such event be reduced by the surplus. The same shall apply to the spouse's pension paid by the E European Parliament on account of a deceased's membership thereof.

119. (1) The Presidium of the Folketing shall be entitled, upon request, to accord former Members of the Rigsdag, who before April 1st 1946 ceased to be Members of the Rigsdag, and the widow or widowers of such Members an annual allowance, the amount of which shall be decided by the Presidium.
